Can I buy second-hand solar panels?

There are two options for buying second-hand solar panels: used or refurbished products. As you now know, used solar panels were previously owned by a consumer or business. Refurbished solar panels are used solar panels that have been restored to an acceptable condition or standard by a refurbishing company or the manufacturer.

What are refurbished solar panels?

Refurbished solar panels are used solar panels that have been restored to an acceptable condition or standard by a refurbishing company or the manufacturer. Below, we've highlighted the main differences between used and refurbished solar panels to better aid you in making the right choice for your home and budget.

Should I buy used solar panels?

If you are purchasing for personal use, you should keep in mind that renewable energy tax credits are not extended to used solar panels. Searching for the best deal when buying used solar panels requires diligence. However, it is worth it as used panels can deliver significant savings over new.

Do refurbished solar panels come with a warranty?

Refurbished: Some refurbished solar panels come with a refurbished warranty. These warranties have shorter coverage periods than new solar panels. Refurbished solar panel warranties range from three months to nine years. Some refurbished panels don't come with a warranty at all.

Should you inspect used solar panels before buying?

It's common in the solar industry for buyers to inspect used solar panels and equipment prior to purchasing. Many reputable resellers will work with prospective buyers to arrange inspections, either on-site or virtually. Some also offer limited-time, money-back guarantees to allow buyers to fully inspect equipment after delivery.

Our high-efficiency solar panels come in a variety of wattages and different styles like mono solar panels, bi-facial, split cell, and flexible solar panels from brands like Canadian Solar, Qcell, Longi, and more. At Solar Power Store, we offer ...
