

Rooftop solar power generation for rent

Should you rent out your roof space for a solar system?

Renting out your own roof space for the operation of a solar system offers the owner a lucrative secondary income stream. We operate the system and feed the electricity into the grid receiving a remuneration for the sale of energy. The roof owner can benefit by renting out his roof space without having to invest himself.

What is a rooftop solar system?

Rooftop solar systems, also known as photovoltaic (PV) systems, are solar power generation systems installed on rooftops of residential, commercial, or industrial buildings to harness solar energy for electricity generation.

How much does a rooftop solar system cost?

The cost depends on factors such as system size, location, and incentives available. On average, a residential solar system may range from $15,000 to $25,000, with solar incentives and tax credits decreasing the cost by 15-30%. How long does a rooftop solar system last? A well-maintained rooftop solar system can last between 25-30 years.

How can you make money from a solar roof?

Solar rooftop leasing is one of the three basic ways you can make money from your rooftop with solar energy. The other two involve owning and operating solar panels on your own roof and joint venturing with a developer who will install the solar panels and share the income with you.

How much solar power does a roof generate?

In a perfect world, the average roof in the U.S. can generate around 35,000 kilowatt-hours (kWh) of solar electricity annually--far more than the average home's annual electricity usage of 10,600 kWh. Realistically, your roof's solar generation potential will be less than that.

Are rooftop solar systems a good investment?

Rooftop solar systems offer a range of economic benefits for homeowners and businesses alike, including reduced energy costs, increased property value, and job creation. One of the most significant advantages of investing in rooftop solar systems is the reduction in energy bills.
