What are photovoltaic panels & how do they work?

Photovoltaic panels, or solar panels, are the most crucial component of a solar power system. They are responsible for converting sunlight into direct current (DC) electricity through a process called the photovoltaic effect. Solar panels are made up of many individual solar cells, which are usually made from silicon, a semi-conducting material.

Can a solar panel be removed from a roof?

Thus, it's best to have your solar panel system removed by trained solar professionals who have the knowledge and equipment to do the job right. While repairing many parts of your solar power system can be done on the roof, it is often much safer to do this work after the panels are removed.
