Does a trunk organizer save sanity?

Not only does a trunk organizer save your sanity, but it can also save you money by safeguarding your cargo. From delicate wine glasses to rogue egg cartons, the more contained and organized your precious cargo, the calmer your mind and the fewer dollars spent on broken goods.

What makes a good trunk organizer?

A great thing about a trunk organizer is the ability to clean up contained messes easily. If anything leaks or spills, it ideally stays within the confines of the organizer and not all over your trunk. Sometimes a quick vacuum is all you need, and most organizers feature a waterproof liner for liquid messes.

What is a rigid-edge trunk organizer?

Rigid-edge trunk organizers keep items in place and help secure fragile items like eggs or glass bottles. However, they'll be less malleable and can be trickier to store when not in use. So envision the things you'll stash in the organizer the most, and choose which construction works best for your needs.

How many storage pods does the car-go-box have?

The Car-Go-Box has three color-coded storage pods with easy-access zip-top closures that fit within a folding case. You can remove the pods and use them individually or use the case as its own haul bag for all three. Straps on the case are adjustable for more comfortable carrying.
